Old Forge Man Killed; Boy Critical, In Crash

A 24-YEAR-OLD Old Forge man was killed and his nephew critically injured shortly before 10 a. m. yesterday when their station wagon and a tractor-trailer collided on Route 611, two miles north of Tobyhanna.

Robert Bergamino, of 316 Grace St., Old Forge, identified by State Police at Mt. Pocono as the driver of the station wagon, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. E. O. Headrick, of Mt. Pocono. He suffered multiple injuries when he was thrown to the highway and the trailer of the tractor-trailer, loaded with empty beer bottles, overturned on him.

Boy Critical
His nephew, Walter Baginski,

14, of the Grace St. address, was reported in critical condition at Allentown General Hospital with severe head injuries and a broken right arm.

The driver of the tractor-trailer, Harry Weintraub, 55, of 1 Bayless Ave., Binghamton, N. Y., was reported in satisfactory condition at Monroe County General Hospital where he is being treated for back injuries.

John C. F. Foelker, Monroe County coroner, released Bergamino's body to the Grose funeral home, Mt. Pocono. It was later taken to the Joseph Salerno funeral home, 145 Moosic Rd., Old Forge. Arrangements were incomplete last night.

Car Demolished
Weintraub was driving a tractor-trailer owned by Associated Transport of Scranton. Bergamino's station wagon was owned by Hugo Brozzetti, a Scranton cigarette vending machine operator. The station wagon was demolished, while damage to the tractor-trailer was estimated at $500.

Bergamino was a graduate of Old Forge High School in the class of 1956 and served two years with the Marine Corps. He was a member of St. Mary's Church, Old Forge.

Surviving are his father, Frank Bergamino; seven brothers, Frank, John, Leonard, George and Carmen, all of Taylor, and Ralph and Joseph, both of Old Forge, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Youells, Taylor, and Mrs. Charles Baginski, Old Forge.

Weintraub was taken to the hospital in the Pocono Township Fire Co. ambulance, while Baginski was taken to Allentown in a Tobyhanna Army Depot ambulance. The injured were treated at the scene by Dr. Headrick and ambulance attendants.

Scranton Names Attorney To Welfare Post In Cabinet

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. elect William W. Scranton Wednesday named Philadelphia attorney Arlin M. Adams to hold the key post of secretary of public welfare in his cabinet.

Adams, 41, will succeed Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting in the $20,000 a year job that is responsible for administering a third of the Commonwealth's $1.1 billion general fund annual budget.

In designating Adams Scranton issued this statement:

"Mr. Adams' appointment is a personal one which I am making because of the high regard in which I hold him and the confidence I have that he will do an outstanding job in handling this most complicated office.

Grateful For Help
"I am grateful of course for the efforts he made in the recent campaign as a member of the citizens committee in Philadelphia but frankly this appointment is more personal than political."

"The department of public welfare, with its important human problems, needs strong and competent hands guiding it. I believe Arlin Adams is the man for the job."

Adams, as he indicated when his name first was mentioned for a cabinet post, will continue his private law practice while handling the welfare post.

He is the fourth Philadelphiaan named to the Scranton cabinet. Still unfilled in the Scranton cabinet are the posts of state police commissioner, secretary of labor and industry, secretary of banking, and secretary of property and supplies.

Scranton reportedly sought first to name Adams as either his cabinet secretary or insurance commissioner, but allegedly ruled those out when he indicated—as a condition of acceptance—that he would continue his law practice while serving in the cabinet.

It was pointed out that there would be no legal conflicts of interest in administration of the welfare department and the $400 million it uses for public assistance, retarded children, mental health, old age assistance and related services.

Initial Mariner II Reports Evaluated

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — First reports back from Mariner II's historic fly-by-Venus indicate that the cloud-shrouded planet may have longer days and nights than her sister planet, Earth.

Scientists reported Wednesday on the only data analyzed so far from the tape recorded reports made Dec. 14 when Mariner rushed by within 21,600 miles of Venus.

That data indicates that Venus has little or no magnetic field. This could be because of slow rotation, Earth turns on its axis every 24 hours, giving us our 24-hour day. But Venus—about the same size as Earth—may take considerably longer.

"The observations thus far suggest that planets and satellites that rotate much less rapidly than Earth have small magnetic fields," the report said.

The weaker magnetic field also may indicate that Venus has no radiation belts, nor any southern or northern lights such as those seen on Earth.

Twelve days after its flirtation with Venus, Mariner is still making measurements on the climate of space and reporting that data back to Earth as the bug-shaped space probe continues on into an orbit around the sun.

Holiday Deaths Hit 837

Traffic killed 645 persons during America's four-day Christmas holiday.

All accidents cost 837 lives, including 107 lost in fires and 85 in all other types of mishaps.

Severe winter weather in much of the nation was a paramount factor in both traffic and death tolls.

The traffic count did not reach the pre-holiday range of 650 to 750 estimated by the National Safety Council. It was well short of the 706 record for a four-day Christmas set in 1956.

However, the toll for the 102-hour period from 6 p.m., Friday to midnight Tuesday was substantially higher than a non-holiday weekend period of equal length would be likely to cause.

The safety council said such a figure is 470. The Associated Press actually counted 571 traffic deaths from 6 p.m., Friday, Dec. 7, to midnight Tuesday, Dec. 11. In that span there were 64 fire deaths and 76 from miscellaneous accidents—511 accident deaths in all.

Dock Strike Continues In Stalemate

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads placed a voluntary embargo Wednesday on export freight shipments to struck Gulf and Atlantic Coast ports in an effort to prevent a choking pileup of goods on the waterfronts.

The four-day-old strike by 60,000 longshoremen showed no sign of ending. No bargaining sessions were scheduled.

Prisoners' Families Due To Arrive At Florida Port Today

Castro Confiscates Homes, Properties

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Havana sailing Wednesday night of a mercy ship bringing 923 refugee relatives to join liberated Cuban invasion captives in Florida spurred activities to welcome them to the United States.

The passenger-crammed freighter African Pilot left Havana at 6:51 p.m. EST. With cruising time estimated at 14 hours, the ship would arrive about 9 a.m. Thursday at Port Everglades, 25 miles north of Miami.

Three Coast Guard cutters met the African Pilot less than an hour after it steamed from Havana. The largest vessel, the Androscoggin based at Miami, made the first rendezvous with the mercy ship. Shortly after the Ariadne and another known by the Number 95-323 joined the sailing brigade.

A Coast Guard patrol boat was scheduled to meet the ship off the Florida coast and guide her into Port Everglades.

Infants in arms and feeble grandparents of invasion prisoners were among the shipload of kinfolk permitted by Prime Minister Fidel Castro to depart Cuba as his "Christmas bonus" on the $3-million barter deal that ransomed the prisoners. Hundreds more had sought passage unsuccessfully on the African Pilot. Those who were accepted for the cruise were told by Cuban officials they could take nothing but the clothes they were wearing.

Overcome by heat and emotion, many fainted as solemn lines of men, women and children passed through dockside checkpoints in Havana, according to reports from the Cuban capital.

The battered old freighter African Pilot was fitted to carry the 1,000 Cubans on the voyage. They are parents, wives, children, brothers and sisters of the prisoners captured in the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961.

Russians Also Leave
Sailing of the African Pilot would be the second large departure from Havana in two days. In a surprise move late Tuesday, a Soviet passenger liner left Havana with hundreds of Russians who had been stationed in Cuba.

The Russian men and women, many wearing work clothes and some carrying small children, were among the estimated 20,000 sent to Cuba from Iron Curtain countries last summer. They may have been workers on missile sites.

A Pan American World Airways cargo plane flew from Miami to Havana on Wednesday with Red Cross nurses and emergency supplies for use aboard the African Pilot on the trip to Florida.

Leading the delegation was Enso V. Bighinatti, assistant national director of disaster services of the American Red Cross. Upon his return to U.S. soil, he told a news conference: "Everyone was extremely cordial to us. There was no secrecy and we had freedom of movement."

The East Coast longshoremen's strike will not affect the unloading of the African Pilot.

"This is what we consider an emergency," said a spokesman for the longshoremen.

U.S. health and immigration teams were set up at Port Everglades to give any needed inoculations to the relatives.

After processing, which is expected to take about three hours, the exiles will be loaded into 30 buses and escorted by the Florida Highway Patrol to a huge auditorium in Miami where they will be reunited with the prisoners.

Stephen Wise, director of the Cuban Refugee Relief Center in Miami, said the relatives will be treated in much the same manner as any Cubans arriving by plane or boat in the past three years.

"The only problem here is that since such a large group is arriving at the same time, we're making arrangements for temporary shelter and feeding until we can get them all processed and out on the street," Wise said.

Refugee families get a maximum of $10 a month from funds of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Individuals get a maximum of $60 a month. The average for families in $92, for individuals $54, center sources said.

The prisoners met other family members in the same auditorium Sunday and Monday after they arrived in Miami in the two-day, 10-plane Operation Ransom that ended in the dying hours of Christmas Eve.

U. S. Denies New Spying Charges Made By Soviet

MOSCOW (AP) — The U.S. Embassy denied renewed Soviet charges of spying Wednesday and accused the Russians of waging an anti-American press campaign.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry summoned a U.S. Embassy official and demanded an end of the alleged spying by embassy employees in Moscow.

Step-Up Activities
Ambassador Foy D. Kohler anticipated the Soviet complaint and through his representative rejected the charges as unfounded.

Through his subordinate, Kohler lodged his own complaint, accusing the Russians of conducting an anti-American campaign in their press and through television. The Soviet Union said it could not agree with this.

American officials, assessing the latest developments, said they thought the spying episode may be played out. But they voiced puzzlement at the seemingly stepped-up press charges against U.S. Embassy employees and the repeated showings in the theaters and on Moscow television of an anti-American film, called "Along the Black Path."

The film includes scenes taken from hiding, by secret police, of U.S. diplomats and visitors in the Soviet Union.

American sources said the campaign did not appear to jibe with the Soviet posture of peace. They said the Soviet government departments involved did not seem to be fully coordinated in their actions.

Although the Soviets demanded an end to the purported spying, they did not demand expulsion of all five U.S. Embassy officials accused earlier this month in the Soviet press of operating in a spy ring.

Expulsion has not been demanded for the three remaining — the embassy doctor, Air Force Capt. Alexis Davison, 31, of Atlanta, Ga.; Second Secretary Robert German, 35, of Dallas, Tex.; and embassy secretary Hugh Montgomery, 39, of Springfield, Mass.

Harriman Sees Red China Rift With Moscow Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman predicted Wednesday that differences will grow between Communist China and the Soviet Union in their fight for leadership of world communism.

In an exclusive interview, President Kennedy's top adviser on Far Eastern affairs said there will be continuing competition and difficulties between the two Communist rivals.

"Which one will gain is anyone's guess," he said. "Moscow believes that the only true believers are those that will accept Moscow's leadership."

"Peking has never been willing to accept that situation, and now, I think, is bidding for leadership itself."

Both want to "destroy everything we believe in," Harriman said, but of the two "the Chinese have a more dangerous point of view and may become the more dangerous threat to the free world."

He said he did not foresee a complete break but added, "I feel that this breach is greater today than it ever has been—it's more out in the public."

Harriman, a former ambassador to Moscow, continued: "Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told me in 1959 that if Red China got into a major war that the Soviets would fulfill their obligations under their treaty, which you will recall is a military alliance against Japan or anyone allied with Japan."

"I'm inclined to think that opinion still holds, but short of a major war I think that differences will continue and will perhaps be even more outspoken than they are today."

"There is no indication at the moment of a tapering off of their differences."

Kennedy Confers With Top Advisors In Policy Session

dozen key financial, military and legislative experts called to the Florida vacation White House for year-end policy conferences.

The conferees on tax policy gathered around a glass-topped coffee table on a covered patio overlooking the swimming pool at the Kennedys' borrowed villa.

Sitting in on the session with Kennedy were Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, Under-Secretary Henry Fowler, Assistant Secretary Stanley S. Surrey, Chairman Walter Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers, Kermit Gordon, who is soon to become director of the Budget Bureau, and Theodore C. Sorensen, Kennedy's special counsel.

The talks started aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz on a two-hour cruise up Lake Worth, with Mrs. Kennedy, daughter Caroline, relatives, friends and two dogs also in the party.

The Honey Fitz sailed from its dock shortly after 1 p.m. without waiting for the Montana senator and his wife, whose plane had been held up by fog in snow-covered Washington.

The yacht had been out some 15 minutes when a black speedboat used by the Secret Service protective detail hurried alongside with the Mansfields and the President's Air Force aide.

Shirtsleeve Session
Mansfield doffed his suit jacket for shirtsleeve discussion with Kennedy of obstacles facing administration programs in the Congress that convenes Jan. 9.

Their talk preceded the more detailed conferences Kennedy has scheduled with other advisers that will get into specifics of the tax cut the President wants Congress to approve early next year.

Kennedy also has summoned the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to review the year-end military situation and discuss the defense budget at a morning session Thursday.

NATO's Meaning Described To Kiwanis By Calhoun

JOHN E. Calhoun, recently named executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, described to Kiwanians yesterday on the "Meaning of NATO". The meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Stroudsburg.

Calhoun, a recently retired navy commander, was, until recently, Director of Personnel for the international NATO Staff known as the Supreme Allied Command Atlantic, headed by Admiral Robert L. Dennison, U. S. Navy.

Initially, in his presentation, Calhoun confided that Stroudsburg was his first choice of areas in which to take up a civilian endeavor. As a Philadelphian, and a vacationer for many years in the Pocono Pines area, Calhoun stated that locating in Stroudsburg was like coming back home.

He praised the leadership of the officers, committee chairmen and committee members of the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau, Inc. and said that this factor, above all, made him strive for the position he now holds.

On the subject of NATO, which stands for North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Calhoun reminded Kiwanians that the Allies rapidly dismantled their war machine after World War II — the Russians, on the contrary, built up their war potential. This compelled the Western nations to form an organization for their collective, mutual defense, known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, but commonly referred to as NATO. Calhoun mentioned that 15 Western nations now comprise NATO, namely, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Greece, Turkey, Western Germany, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

Aims, Purposes
Calhoun then stated that the aims and purposes of the North Atlantic Treaty organization, and what it does for us today:

FIRST: It is an organization of free nations. Each member nation retains its full sovereignty.

SECOND: NATO neither competes nor conflicts with the United Nations. Conversely, its formation is expressly sanctioned by the United Nations Charter.

THIRD: The organization is for defense only! It expressly disavows any aggressive purpose.

FOURTH: The alliance is not for the primary benefit of any one member. Nor is it more important for some than for others. Instead, it is an alliance equally essential and important to all its member nations.

FIFTH: The fifteen member nations, by heritage, by economic necessity, by common interests, and principles, have formed a closely knit, interdependent union, for mutual defense.

By slide presentation, Calhoun graphically showed how NATO nations depended on the sea for economic support in peacetime and for survival in war. He stated that the merchant ship traffic across the Atlantic now averaged 2,700 ships per day — all carrying raw materials and finished products to NATO nations.

Submarine Threat
Calhoun then spoke of the ominous Soviet submarine threat, consisting of 450 operational submarines, which compared to only about 60 that the Germans had at the start of World War II. He said that the U.S. Navy's polaris subs, however, found the Soviet Union vulnerable from the Norwegian Sea, the Mediterranean and the Pacific ocean.

He stressed that NATO's job was to continually remind the Soviets that the West was unified and ready to fight for their cherished freedom with nuclear weapons, if necessary. He emphasized that the purpose of NATO was aimed at preventing hot wars, but, failing that, their purpose would be to win any war in which they might become involved.

Calhoun spoke of the tremendous progress made by NATO nations in standardizing fuel, provisions, naval stores, guns, planes and ammunition. Even minesweepers, he stated, were now standard among NATO countries. He emphasized that it was now standard procedure for ships and aircraft of several different nations to operate, regularly, together during planned NATO exercises. Further, he stated that NATO patrol based aircraft were rotated from country to country in order to become familiar with the operating techniques of each.

Very Great
Calhoun stated that the Soviet submarine and missile threat is very great indeed, and their scientific achievements in space have gained the respect of the entire world. However, he stated that it must be remembered that the Allied forces have other powerful deterrents in the U.S. Strategic Air Command, the Royal Air Force Bomber Command, the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, the U.S. intermediate Range Ballistic Missile in Europe and the polaris submarines remaining under U. S. national control.

In conclusion, Calhoun stated that the reason we were at peace today was because NATO is united. Together, the NATO partners have succeeded in countering the Soviet threat and to resist the Soviet quest for world domination. No longer, he stated, could any nation of the free world afford the luxury of trying to do it alone.

Guard Reported As 'Improved'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Col. Thomas R. White Jr., state adjutant general-designate, said Tuesday night the Pennsylvania National Guard's 28th Division "is in an improved position" because of a federal decision to reorganize Army Reserve and Guard units. White said the 28th Division is authorized to increase its personnel from 71 per cent to 81 per cent of war time strength. "I am sure nobody will be discharged" because of the reorganization of the 28th Division, he said.

YMCA Secretary Dies In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Funeral services were held in St. James Episcopal Church yesterday for Ethel M. Carson, former executive secretary for the Young Women's Christian Association branches in Williamsport, Pa., and in Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Miss Carson died Friday in Union Hospital after a brief illness. She went to Williamsport during the latter 1920s and participated in a fund drive to establish a YMCA in the Pennsylvania city. She remained in Williamsport for several years working as YMCA executive director.

Electronics Firm Refinances Notes

NEW YORK (AP) — Lafayette Radio Electronics Corp. said it has placed a $3 million, 5 1/2 per cent promissory note privately with the Prudential Insurance Co. of America.

The loan is due in 1975. Proceeds will be used to repay outstanding bank loans and to augment working capital.

SPANISH children, at Epiphany, expect the Three Kings to bring them gifts, and they set out shoes filled with straw or grain for the horses the Kings ride.

"XMAS," now generally considered poor usage as an abbreviation for Christmas, was often used as a holy symbol in the early Christian church. "X", in Greek, is the first letter of Christ's name.

Scott May Become GOP Caucas Chief

HARRISBURG — State Senator William Z. Scott of Lansford may become chairman of the Republican Caucus of the Senate.

Republican leaders at the capital said over the Christmas holidays that Robert D. Fleming of Pittsburgh, caucus chairman since 1959, will give up his leadership post if he can be named to a top spot in the Senate. They said Fleming would like to be chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

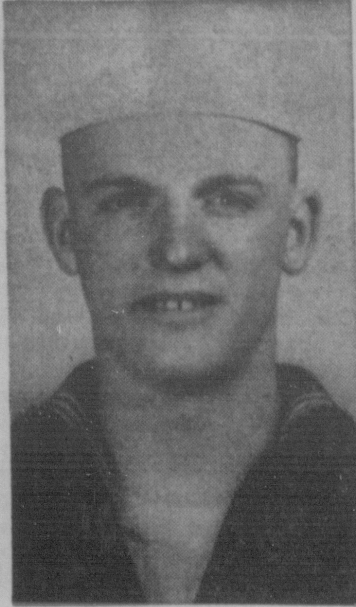

So far as could be learned, Scott will have no opposition for the caucus chairmanship in the event Fleming steps down. The caucus leader must be a lawyer. It is understood other lawyers on the GOP side of the Senate would support Scott.

Should Scott take this important post, the Lehigh Valley area will have two men in top spots in the caucus, Lehigh County's Sen. John T. Van Sant was recently named to be secretary of the body.

Chinese Reds To Release Men

TOKYO (AP) — Peking radio said yesterday a group of 106 sick and wounded Indian prisoners will be released on Dec. 28.

The broadcast heard here said they will be turned over to the Indian Red Cross at Jhang, a village five miles east of the monastery town of Towang, on the northeastern front.

The Chinese Communists have already released 607 Indian prisoners. The last group of 368 was turned over to the Indian Red Cross last Wednesday.

Ambulance Unit Elects Board

THE annual meeting of the Board of Directors of Central Pocono Ambulance Association was held in the Tannersville firehouse recently.

At the close of the regular business, election of board members for 1963 was held. The chairlady of the nominating committee read the list of nominees. One nomination from the floor was accepted.

The entire list of nominees was accepted by vote.

Board members for 1963 include Glen Kissell, Pocono Manor; Donald Dyson, Swiftwater; Woodrow Keiper, Scotrun; Tom McCool, Jr., Meisertown; Theodore Sebring, Cherry Lane; Morgan Butz, Appenzell; Landis Shafer, Reenders; Rena Shick, Jackson Township Ladies Aux.; Adeline White and Katie Salewski, Stroud Township; Frank Gochal, Hamilton Town-ship; Gerald Canfield, Bartonsville; Cecil London, Pocono Township Ladies Aux., and Chester Sebring, Jr., Tannersville.

It is now recorded in the by-laws that the organizing committee will be permanent members of the Board of Directors.

The organizing committee is composed of Emma Shick, chairlady; Eva Janson, Louise Metzger, Clair Shick, Fred Metzger and Jack Smiley.

The Ambulance has made fine progress in the two years it was in operation. It was noted only $1,500 is owed on a loan and that will be reduced in January.

Plans to erect a building to house the ambulance were discussed.

A Way To Peace

"Realists" or just plain cynics and pessimists frequently say that human nature never changes. Therefore, the age old problems of mankind will always be present. Perhaps human nature is unchanging but human relationships are constantly changing so there may come a day of peace and good will over the world after all.

At this moment American youngsters under student programs of one kind or another are studying in many nations. For example, a group is presently in Peru under the sponsorship of The Experiment in International Living. Similar groups from "The Experiment" are in other nations—Japan, Mexico, Chile and Europe.

One of the students in Peru writes, "The Communists in Arequipa have tried to stir up riots (against Americans) . . . but were ignored and everyone was very friendly to us. In Are-quipa we met several members of the Peace Corps—there are 60 in Arequipa alone! They took us to visit some of their projects in the Barreadas (slum areas) where they distribute food to 5,000 people a day, put in water systems, roads, etc."

Peace Corps members are well liked by Peruvians. In the words of another student, "They have only been in Peru now about two months, but have already gained a lot of respect just by the fact that they live with, and like, all the other people of the Barreadas."

Perhaps our career foreign service representatives can learn something from the students. Someday the sun may rise on a peaceful world. When it does a large share of the credit will be due to the search for understanding and knowledge on the part of the generation that has known the insecurity of growing up in the nuclear age.

Again: A House Rules Fight

It has been made clear in recent statements by Representative Howard W. Smith that the battle over control of the House Rules Committee — and control, thereby, of the flow of legislation, will have to be fought all over again when the 88th Congress convenes early in January.

It will be recalled that in the early days of the 87th Congress, President Kennedy and his supporters in the House outmaneuvered Mr. Smith by enlarging the Rules Committee with the addition of three liberal members. The defeat for the Virginia Democrat and his conservative coalition was engineered by a hair-thin margin of votes.

Mr. Smith is now intent on reversing that action and restoring to himself as chairman the absolute power he had previously enjoyed.

"The Rules Committee issues," he has proclaimed in the tones of a foreign minister talking of matters of life and death, "are not negotiable."

He wants to return the Rules Committee to the old 12-member size, with six liberals and six conservatives; the resulting tie vote could keep bills offensive to the Smith bloc indefinitely bottled up in committee.

Mr. Smith is aware that the "packing" of the Rules Committee in early 1961 was personally pushed by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, who enlisted the support of members, including 14 Texans, whom the present less forceful Speaker, John McCormack, may not be able to influence.

John Chamberlain

A Wrong Moment

By John Chamberlain

The worry about the Congo is that if the copper-rich province of Katanga can't be forced to pay the bills for the whole area, the poorer sections will fall prey to Communist demagogues and infiltrators.

Well, as President Kennedy reads himself to send an eight-man military mission to the Congo to make an on-the-spot report of conditions, there may be something to the worry.

Even so, it seems most ironic that our State Department should choose this point to desert the principle of self-determination of nations after following it religiously and even idiotically for more than forty years.

In the Nineteenth Century, the liberals wanted to put the world together into bigger federated units, with due allowances being made for local rights and individual liberties. But after the 1919 peace of Versailles every little European language — nay, every little dialect — got a nation of its own.

The Austro-Hungarian Empire, which could have been federalized without infringing the local freedoms of Czechs, Slovaks and Hungarians, was carved into little slices, thus making it easy for Hitler to gobble it bit by bit. And when Hitler was defeated, the Russians followed his example by picking off the Hungarians, the Poles and the Czechs detail by detail.

Undeterred by such a record, the Western victors in World War II proceeded to re-enact the original 1919 mistake on a global scale. With the blessing of the United States, Algeria was cut off from metropolitan France — and is now crying for foreign investment capital to keep from starving.

In sub-Saharan Africa, country after country was liberated, only to see the local populations turn and rend each other in barbaric fashion. The whole spectacle recalls a sour comment made by General Tasker Bliss after World War I. "The submerged nations," Bliss said, "are coming to the surface and as soon as they appear they fly at somebody's throat. They are like mosquitoes, vicious from the moment of birth."

Despite the record of viciousness, one can sympathize with the desire of submerged peoples for freedom. But it would have been the mark of common sense to free them as individuals within wider, federalized, geographical and economic contexts.

Logically, one might be expected to applaud the U. N. decision to hold Katanga to par-

President Kennedy realizes the implications of the coming Rules Committee struggle. Should a tightly conservative coalition resume control, "our whole program," he has warned, "will be emasculated."

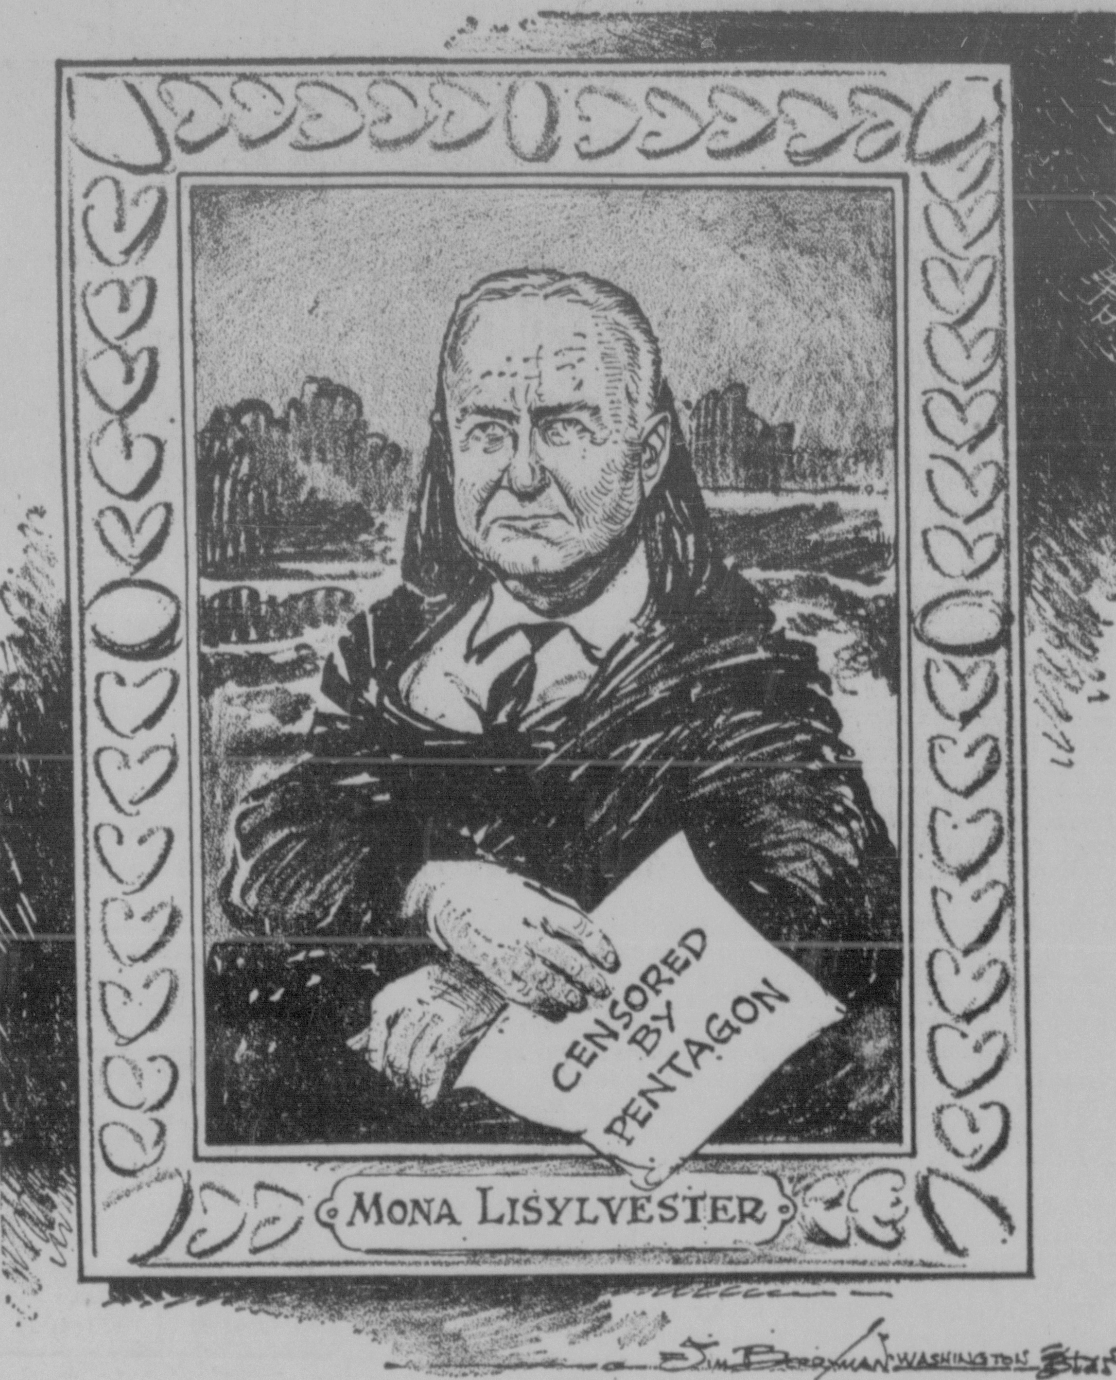

For one committee of the House, dominated by one individual, to arrogate to itself the power to decide what issues shall be voted on by the people's representatives in Congress, is to strip Congress of its responsibilities.

Mr. Smith may, of course, lose out again. A number of Republican votes helped Rayburn enlarge the Rules Committee in 1961 and many Republicans in the House are disinclined to align themselves this time with the Virginian's attempt to regain his ancient authority.

Conservative Congressmen who noticed that the expanded Rules Committee did not result in any outpouring of over-liberal legislation see no particular reason to accept Chairman Smith's dictation. There is also the puzzling question as to which members of the committee would be dropped, if it were again reduced in size.

Aside from the struggle over the control of the Rules Committee there is the even more important issue of how much authority the committee should have. It is this paramount question that the incoming House should face up to, to prevent a few men on one committee from keeping legislative issues from a vote.

Not Talking . . . Not Even Smiling!

The Pennsylvania Story

McSparran On The Outside

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — Whatever happened to Old Mac?

"Old Mac" — who's he? "Old Mac" isn't really "old" — he's only 48, but as Republican Governor — Elect William W. McSparran heads for his deadline in filling top posts in his incoming administration, the saga of "what has happened to Mac", of J. Collins McSparran, at this point is perhaps worth noting.

Mr. McSparran, it will be recalled, was Mr. Scranton's opponent in the spring primary this year. As the venerable Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange with an obviously tremendous farm following throughout the Keystone State, he took a leave of absence from his Grange post to run for the gubernatorial nod.

When the former member of the State Council of Education (he was appointed to the Council in 1953 by then Republican Governor Fine) lost his shirt in the primary, he returned to his post with the Grange but did not stand for re-election this fall.

The reason he did not seek the Grange post again is important. Inasmuch as the Grange Master is not supposed to engage in politics, Mr. Sparran decided to step out — in order to campaign in behalf of his more successful Republican opponent in the primaries, William W. Scranton.

Former Grangeman and Penn State University trustee McSparran hit the Scranton sawdust trail in earnest.

There was never any formal agreement or commitment as to whether there would be a "reward" in it for Old Mac — that is, via appointment to a government post — should Mr. Scranton win, but it was "generally understood" Mr. McSparran would become a part of the "Scranton team."

Mr. Scranton won that tiff over Democratic opponent Richardson Dilworth — by a very handy near-500,000 votes.

That was November 6. Nearly two months later what has happened to J. Collins McSparran?

Some call it the brush-off; others call it a shunning. But by whatever name it might be called, former Grangemaster McSparran is still on the outside looking in — no appointment "on the team" and none in sight!

Close associates of McSparran assumed he would be named to a Cabinet post, obviously to his "natural" in the field of agriculture, namely Secretary of Agriculture.

Last week Mr. Scranton named Leland H. Bull of Penn State, of which Mr. McSparran is a trustee) to the agriculture post.

What of other Cabinet posts? They're being filled fast — and best reports are that Mr. Scranton does not now see Mr. McSparran fitting into the Cabinet picture after all.

Some secondary post such as a department deputy or a member of a board or commission?

It's been regarded as a lukewarm possibility to which the Governor-Elect would be resignedly receptive — but which does not interest Mr. McSparran in the slightest, who is neither concerned with "just any old job" nor the pay.

As Mr. McSparran paraphrased it, it was his understanding during the campaign that he would be "part of the team" — not just a rewarded jobholder.

Up to this point at least it seems quite obvious that as far as the Governor-Elect is concerned, his opponent-turned-supporter is destined for the proverbial brush-off; one those non-victories-has-been-won approaches of:

"What did you say your name is?"

The Fort Lauderdale News reports that the Show Boat is on fire again? The reason — Billy Maxted and his Manhattan Jazz Band, featuring the Poonoon's own Johnny Dengler, are back at the Trade Winds pilot house in Florida.

Opening night Dengler put the packed house in a frenzy by tripping on the trumpet, tuba and bass sax. Incidentally the opening night onlookers included former heavyweight champion of the world, Rocky Marciano, and golf's young sensation, Jack Nicklaus.

The southern newspaper reports that "Maxted benefits from perfect showboating. The theme of the Trade Winds' big room accents jazz and blues forays, and the sound is BIG. Especially great are Billy's arrangements of 'Runnin' Wild,' 'New Orleans,' 'Paducah Parade,' and 'Singin' the Blues.'"

"The band is one of the finest, musically integrated groups today, and members Don Tracey, Ben Ventura, Lee Gifford, Don MacLean and Johnny Dengler are toponotch exponents of their various instruments."

Dengler recently blew into Florida after a long and successful engagement in Las Vegas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Dengler, owners of Hawthorne Inn, Mt. Pocono.

The Allen-Scott Report

Fulbright Promises 'Explosive' Hearings

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, Dec. 27: — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is going to rock the new Congress with some jolting revelations of the vast powers of lobbyists for foreign governments in the U.S.

Headed by Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the Senate investigators will highlight a number of cases where these foreign agents received fees ranging from $20,000 to $250,000 to influence U.S. foreign policy and obtain large sums of economic and military aid for their clients.

Some of the eye-popping details of these lobbying activities which the senators plan to air at public hearings in January and February are:

A New York law firm received $100,000 for arranging a special Presidential economic mission to its client country. Result: The country received more than $100 million in U.S. aid.

A Washington lawyer represented a foreign government that received a large loan from the Development Loan Fund. The lawyer's fee, $20,000, was paid by another U.S. agency.

An American documentary film producer, under contract with a foreign government, prepared and distributed TV and movie films favorable to its client. When shown to the public, the films carried no mention that the foreign government had paid for them.

An East Coast lawyer was paid $350,000 for representing a Central American government for two years. The amount included a $10,000 "personal gift" from the country's president for arranging a highly successful visit to the U.S. The lawyer listed his Washington "entertainment expenses" at $22,000.

Even more startling activities of the approximately 400 registered "foreign agents" are still under investigation and due to be ready for public airing during the hearings.

Unknown to 30 of these lobbyists, committee investigators are quietly checking their tax returns to see if their income and expense figures tally with the public reports they filed with the Justice Department as required by the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

These probes found the reports so incomplete that Senator Fulbright is requiring all the registered lobbyists to fill out a special committee questionnaire on their activities.

The tax inspection authority was granted the committee last month by President Kennedy after Senator Fulbright wrote the White House requesting the power so that the committee could determine whether any registered foreign agents are violating federal law.

Bringing Results — Already the committee's investigation, under way for more than a year, has stirred Attorney General Robert Kennedy to action.

He has summoned a federal grand jury to probe the registration reports of the foreign government representatives to ascertain whether they are complying with the law.

Since 1954 the Justice Department has not brought an action under the Foreign Agents Registration Act for failure to list all activities, expenses, or money received.

"This failure to prosecute does not necessarily reflect full compliance with the law by the registrants," according to a staff report prepared for the committee. "On the contrary, our study of the foreign agents registration statements accepted by the Justice Department as complete, discloses a number of apparent omissions and/or evasions."

Aides of the Attorney General are forecasting that the grand jury will return at least one indictment before the Senate committee opens its public hearings. Six Justice Department attorneys are now working on the investigation.

The Powder Keg — An unannounced decision by Senator Fulbright to include nationalities groups in his investigation has touched off the first controversy within the Committee.

Senator Frank Lausche, D-O., has demanded full information on why these anti-Communist groups which represent peoples under Communist domination, are being summoned to appear, and whether the State Department is behind this move.

In a memorandum to Committee members, Senator Fulbright contends that "often these nationalities groups concentrate on influencing U.S. foreign policy in directions designed primarily to promote the interest of foreign organizers or supporters" and should be probed.

Other senators say that Fulbright plans to use this inquiry to launch an investigation of the Central Intelligence Agency, since many of these groups receive money from that agency.

On this possibility, Senator Fulbright is remaining noncommittal. All he will tell other senators is that the coming hearings will be the most explosive he has conducted "since the Reconstruction Finance Corporation investigation." The RFC probe, during the Truman Administration, caused a number of government officials to resign.

Easy Rules!

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm stupid, but I would appreciate a simple rule for introducing people properly. Whenever I have to introduce people to each other, I get all flustered and make a mess of it. I've looked through etiquette books but it's so complicated I can't get it straight in my mind.

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER

DEAR OLD ENOUGH: Don't feel stupid. Yours is a problem common to many who are old enough to know better. Just remember when introducing a lady to a gentleman to mention the lady's name first. ("Jane, may I present Bill?") In introducing someone to an elderly person, mention the elderly person's name first. ("Grandma Jones, this is Peggy, my classmate.") When in a room with a very important person, use his name first. ("Bishop Pike, I'd like you to meet my father.")

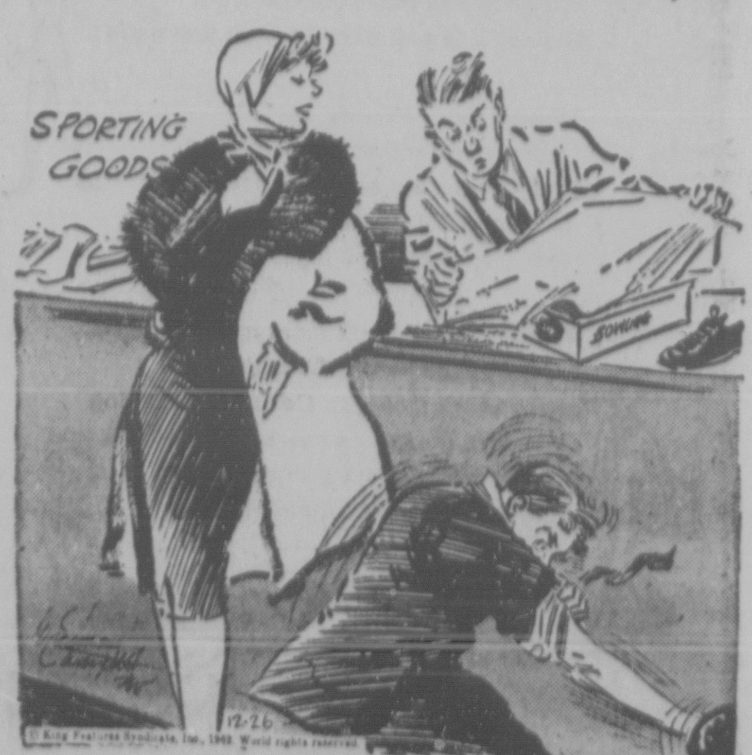

DEAR ABBY: Our son married in a church wedding and all our friends and family sent very nice presents to the couple. Four years later they were divorced and now he is dating a girl who has never been married. If he should marry her, and she wants a church wedding, what do we do about wedding invitations? My husband and I feel that we should not do a repeat job on our family and friends. He thinks one wedding present per child is enough. What is the correct way of handling this?

DEAR ABBY: If your son marries a girl who has never been married and she wants a church wedding, invite your friends and family as though it were your son's first, too. The matter of the gifts is up to the guests. It's a ticklish business, but why should the bride be penalized?

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about guys who kiss and tell?

Yule Business Locally Ranged From 'Fair To Good'

CHRISTMAS season business in the Stroudsburgs ranged from "fair" to "good," a survey of businessmen in the two boroughs revealed last night.

In between were quotes of some merchants, stating that bad weather cut down their Yule sales somewhat.

It was the consensus of opinion that the Christmas season buying foray in the Poconos moved slow, picked up momentum, then got hit with bad weather and finally jet-ted to a "great business day" last Monday.

Tony Quaresimo, Stroudsburg clothier, reported satisfaction. "It was a good season. About the same as last year."

More Trees Sold

George Litts, service station owner in Stroudsburg who sold Christmas trees, "This year trees went at a better pace than last year. We found more people looking for real trees this year than last."

Herb Zubow, Stroudsburg merchant, "We haven't had time to go over the figures of this year's sales. We should know later in the week."

TB Seals Fund Drive Nears $11,000

THE Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society yesterday reported these results in its annual Christmas Seal sale campaign:

Letters mailed, 9,370

Letters returned, 5,432

Money collected, $10,916.72

Bangor Bank Promotes 2 Officers

BANGOR — Two officer promotions and the appointment of two new officers of the Merchants National Bank of Bangor, were announced late yesterday afternoon by J. Hayden Jones, president.

Vincent M. Miller, formerly a cashier, has been promoted to executive vice president, and W. Heber Jones, formerly assistant cashier, was promoted to cashier.

Walter J. Knedler and Ronald C. Cann, former tellers, have been named assistant cashiers.

Obituaries F. H. Kreckman, 73, Cresco

FREDERICK H. Kreckman, 73, Spruce Cabin Rd., Cresco, died at 6:15 p.m. yesterday at his home.

He was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., the son of Henry and Anna Meyer Kreck, and owned and operated H. Kreckman and Sons, a wholesale grocery business, for 50 years until his retirement in 1946. He moved to Cresco from Brooklyn 17 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ethel Kimball Kreckman, at home; three sons, Frederick H., Huntington, Long Island, N.Y.; Herbert L., Cresco, and Harold J. Kreckman, Sarasota, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Rieckborn, Bound Brook, N.J., and Mrs. Milda Treptow, New Brunswick, N.J.; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Lanterman Funeral Home, Rev. Nathaniel Albee will officiate and burial will be in Seese Hill Joint Cemetery, Canadensis.

Mrs. Ruth's Rites Conducted

FUNERAL services were held Monday for Mrs. Elizabeth Ruth, 82, Cherry Valley, at the Daniel G. Warner funeral home, Stroudsburg. Rev. David L. Fife officiated.

Interment was in Cherry Valley Methodist Church Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Otto Christ, Jerome Blakeslee, Earl Erdman, Wilson Riddle, Raymond Haney and John Fisher.

Mrs. Conrad's Funeral Held

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Agnes Conrad, 76, of 55 N. Green St., East Stroudsburg, were held yesterday at 1 p.m. in the Lanterman Funeral Home with the Rev. Norman R. Savage officiating.

Burial was in the Wesley Brick Church Cemetery, Middle Smithfield Township.

Pallbearers were Frank B. Kober Sr., Clarence Strunk, Harry D. Lewis, Frank B. Kober Jr., Thomas Tregan and Ernest Parton.

Effort Man's Rites Friday

FUNERAL services for John Joseph Peterson, Sr., 62, Effort, who died Sunday, will be held in Queen of Peace Church, Brodheadsville, at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Friends may call at the D. A. Hunsicker Funeral Home, Brodheadsville, after 7 p.m. Thursday.

Precipitation may total over half an inch melted, occurring as rain or snow Thursday night or Friday and again Sunday. Snow flurries are expected Monday.

Middle Atlantic States—Temperatures will average 2 to 8 degrees below normal. Colder Thursday will be followed by rising temperatures about Saturday and colder the first of the week. Precipitation will average over one-half inch occurring as snow or rain late Thursday or Thursday night and again about Sunday or Monday.

Western Pennsylvania — Colder Thursday will continue into first of next week with little change from day to day. Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below normal. Precipitation will average one-half inch melted and with local amounts higher and intervals of snow or snow flurries during the period.

Western New York — Colder Thursday will continue into first of next week with little change from day to day. Temperature will average 5 to 10 degrees below normal. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters of an inch melted with local amounts higher and intervals of snow or snow flurries during the period.

S-Sgt. Hoffstadt Airlifts Private Cargo To Venezuela

STAFF Sgt. Eugene Hoffstadt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffstadt, of Chipperfield Drive, recently returned to Dover Air Force Base after flying electrical equipment to Venezuela.

A C-133, of which Sgt. Hoffstadt is loadmaster, carried a one million dollar cargo comprising of large transformers and high voltage switch gear to Maracaibo, Venezuela, to replace equipment destroyed by sabotage early last month.

The airlift, the total cost of which was paid for by the Creole Petroleum company, was crewed by members of the 39th Air Transport Squadron, Dover, Del.

The C-133 Cargomaster was selected because it was the only aircraft large enough to carry the bulky electrical equipment.

Aircraft commander for the mission, Capt. Gordon S. Pink, said that he and his crew of seven considered the flight "routine" except for loading and unloading operations.

He said, "We went to Philadelphia International Airport for the first pick-up and then to Dobbins, AFB, Georgia, for the big stuff. The loading operation took almost six hours and we only had about one-and-a-half inches clearance getting the transformers through the doors."

"Loadmaster S/Sgt. Eugene Hoffstadt did a real fine job of supervising the operation and received fine cooperation from the General Electric people in Georgia and from Creole representatives in Venezuela. The off-loading operation in Maracaibo was very tricky and took more than seven hours to perform," he concluded.

The Creole Petroleum Company, which operates the oil fields, was put out of production temporarily after the bombing, causing loss in oil revenue to the Venezuela government estimated to be in the millions of dollars.

Requiem Mass To Be Celebrated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pontifical Requiem Mass will be celebrated Friday for James P. McGrannery, 63, former U.S. attorney general and federal judge who died in Palm Beach, Fla., Sunday.

McGrannery was attorney general under President Harry Truman, a post he took after giving up his seat on the U.S. District Court bench in Philadelphia. A native of Philadelphia, he lived in Washington and practiced law there since his retirement as attorney general in 1953.

Dog Law's Purpose Explained

THE purpose of the Pennsylvania Dog Law is for the protection of the public and their property through the proper control of dogs and the protection of the properly licensed and tagged dogs, said W. L. Hutchinson, Monroe County Dog Law officer.

The 1962 dog law expires January 15, 1963, regardless of when it was purchased. The 1963 dog licenses are now on sale in the Monroe County Treasurer's Office, Stroudsburg, or can be ordered through any notary public, justice of the peace or alderman.

All dogs over six months of age must be licensed. Male dog licenses cost $1.10 and female licenses $2.10. Spayed female licenses cost $1.10 if a veterinarian's certificate or an affidavit is produced.

Must Be Affixed

License tags must be affixed to a substantial collar and worn by the dog at all times. If your dog does not wear a current license tag it is considered a stray dog and may be disposed of by any officer on sight.

Violators of the Pennsylvania Dog Law are liable to a fine of not less than $5 and costs, or not more than $100 and costs, or imprisonment not exceeding 30 days, or both.

Dies From Fall

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Mattie Battle, 83 and blind died Wednesday in a fall from her porch roof in the Germantown section.

Man, Wife Escape Injury

BANGOR — A Bangor RD 3 man and wife narrowly escaped serious injury about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday when their compact car skidded out of control, mounted a guardrail and flipped over on its roof along Route 611 about two miles north of Easton in Forks Township.

The car driven by Lloyd Berry, 35, traveling north, crashed over the guardrail and flipped into the underbrush along the Delaware River. The car rested on its roof at the bottom of a 25-foot embankment.

Berry and his wife, Jean, 34, were taken to Easton Hospital by the Upper Mount Bethel Rescue Squad ambulance. Both were reported in satisfactory condition today. Berry was being examined for back injuries and his wife for a possible chest injury. Both were treated for cuts and bruises.

Members of the rescue squad told Wayne Frick, township police chief, that both were out of the car when the squad arrived.

Crawled From Car

One side of the car rested on a tree root about 12 inches high leaving space for the couple to crawl from the car through the shattered windshield. The rest of the car was almost flattened.

Passersby who sought help for the couple said they saw the upside down car's headlights shining in the air from the bottom of the embankment. The car was dragged to the highway by a wrecking crew about 10 a.m.

Pair Fined On Conduct Charges

EARL A. Kresge, 20, and Charles E. LaBar, 20, both of 12 Day St., East Stroudsburg, were fined $10 and costs each yesterday on charges of disorderly conduct.

The two were arrested Tuesday by East Stroudsburg police. They were held overnight in the Stroudsburg borough lockup and entered guilty pleas before Justice of the Peace Harold D. Larson, Sr., of East Stroudsburg.

Snowstorm Slows Travel In Keystone

A Christmas Day snowstorm slowed traffic across Pennsylvania and served to make Keystone staters homeward bound after holiday celebrating and visiting more cautious.

As the long 102-hour weekend neared the end—it began at 6 p.m. Friday—a total of 24 persons have died accidentally in the state, 17 in traffic mishaps.

It was far off the tragic pace of Christmas 1961 when the accidental holiday death toll in Pennsylvania reached 33, with 26 of the victims killed in highway crashes. The fatality countdown ended at midnight Christmas Day.

Held In Contempt By Grand Jury

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Robert M. Rossetti, a builder, was found guilty Wednesday of contempt of court after appearing as a witness before the grand jury investigating alleged wrongdoing in City Hall.

Rossetti was fined $250 by Judge Joseph E. Gold, who charged the grand jury. He was cited for contempt by an assistant district attorney, who said the builder gave an interview after appearing as a witness earlier this month.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Each year on the day after Christmas, I get the horrible feeling that the mistletoe has lost finally its magic. In any normal year at least 25 or 30 engagements are announced at Christmastime. To date we have a grand total of 3.

Now, while it only takes one engagement ring to light up the whole world for one particular girl, it takes a lot more than that to light up the social page. Besides, think what a dreary June it's going to be without weddings. Eventually, you realize, such a trend would ruin the economy and depopulate the world.

Actually, I still have faith, which is what I wish the girls who, I'm sure, got their engagement rings this Christmas had more of. Then they'd have had their pictures taken in time and there wouldn't be this dismal lag between the proposal and the announcement to the world.

And from a selfish point of view there wouldn't be either feast or famine on the social pages during this interval either. And no matter how astonished the girls may have seemed to be at the appearance of that little velvet box, you can't tell me that they weren't pretty sure it was there — maybe even before the boy thought of it.

Meanwhile, we'll just have to possess our souls in patience until they get the glossies from the photographers and figure out what to say in the announcement. Actually, for such a major event in one's life, social custom makes it almost absurdly simple. Seems as if it ought to take more than two inches of type to tell any love story.

And so many of the important things are left out: When they first noticed each other as something special, how their paths happened to cross in the first place, when and why did they first realize they were in love.

Those are the questions I ask myself while typing out the formal phrases that the whole thing finally boils down to. And sometimes I can read an amazing amount between the lines. But you gotta have lines. A Christmas week family page without a slew of engagements is like the Christmas tree with the lights off and the presents put away — sort of forlorn.

Faithful Workers Entertained At Hobbs Home

The annual Christmas party of the Faithful Workers Class of Hamilton Union Sunday School was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobbs, Scottdale. Although the attendance was small because of conflicting activities, the party was termed a success by those who attended.

Officers were elected with Mrs. Henrietta Hobbs, president; Mrs. Lydia Howter, vice president; Mrs. Emma Haney, secretary; Mrs. Ethel Rinker, treasurer.

Mrs. Hobbs named Mrs. Bertha Haney to the membership committee and Mrs. Howter on the flower committee. Mrs. Ethel Rinker extended seasons greetings; Mrs. Hobbs played several Christmas piano solos. A surprise feature was the arrival of Mrs. Marion Gumm, daughter of Mrs. Hobbs who gave a reading "Going Home for Christmas."

Gifts were exchanged. The hostess's surprise for each guest was an original painting on a small tray depicting the four seasons.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Howter assisting Mrs. Hobbs.

The class voted to dispense with meetings in January and February with the next meeting called for the third Tuesday in March at Green View Guest Farm with Mrs. Bertha Haney as hostess.

Bangor Girl Engaged To Louis Bray

Bangor — Mr. and Mrs. Patsy DeMaria, of 564 Fairview Ave., Bangor, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia DeMaria to Louis G. Bray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bray of 809 East Main St., Pen Argil.

Methodist Pupils In Entertainment

Delaware Water Gap — To a church filled with listeners, the pupils of the Methodist Sunday School presented their Christmas program Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. Raymond Poortstra, greeted the congregation and then turned the services over to Sunday School Superintendent, Robert Kaiser.

The Youth Choir, carrying candles, had a procession singing "The First Noel" and later in the program sang, "The Star Song." The members present were Faith Lightner, Beth Shoemaker, Isabel Mamm, Pauline Carrescia, Jennie Richards, Leslie Younkins, Diane, Carol and Linda Widdows, Linda Kitchen, Jack Court, John Siproth, Paul Runyan, Alan Brylgo, Forrest Smith and DeVice Keipe.

Recitations were given by Joey Keiper, Vincent McConnell, Rebecca Kaiser, Karen Flynn, Billy Carrescia, Scottie Taylor, Steve Hay, Teddy Keiper, Jean and June Hennett, Jeff Zimmerman, Justine Bartholomew, Bruce Davis, Gwendolyn Kaiser, Jeff Keiper, Valerie Kaiser, Kevin Hay, Thomas Hennett, David Lee, Scott Fisher, Ricky Shoemaker Robert Lee.

The offering was received by Harold Lightner and William Fisher. A play, "The Shepherd's Search" was given by the junior class, directed by Mrs. Willard Jennings and Mrs. Willard Kitchen. The cast was Roxanne Kaiser, Nancy Richards, Jimmy Zimmerman, Jack Zimmerman, Ann McConnell, Phyllis Jennings, Carl Lee, Kim and David Transue, Edward Funk, Jr., Frank Davis, Sandra Jennings.

An outstanding feature was the solo by Michael Siproth who, with instrumental accompaniment sang, "Don't Cry Mother" from "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and reaching high soprano notes.

The classes adjourned to the Sunday School to receive gifts and candy and both scholars and guests were served refreshments by the WSCS, the committee being Mrs. Robert Richards, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. George Hay, Mrs. Nelson Lightner, Sr., Mrs. Elmendorf Runyan, and Mrs. Irvin Flynn.

Alliance Church, Sunday School Joint Program

The Missionary Alliance Church and Sunday School combined to have a Christmas program in the Fifth Street Mission, Sunday morning, with the pastor, Roland Bowman in charge. Mrs. B. H. Hostetter was at the piano.

After carol singing, the beginner's class, directed by Mrs. Ben Parry, was represented by recitations given by Susie Widmer, Freddie Burkholder, Benny Parry Jr., of the primary class, taught by Miss Janet Hoke, sang a solo. Two girls of the junior class, Debra Burkholder and Theresa Widmer, assisted by Miss Ann Salasky, of East Stroudsburg College and Valerie Kaiser from Water Gap, gave a play, "Then I Heard the Music" which had been written for them by their teacher.

Mrs. Hostetter's class presented the play "Grandmother's Surprise Package." In it Linda and Brian Burkholder, Norma and James Parry, were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parry, Debra Burkholder, Theresa Widmer, and Miss Phyllis Belcher, of East Stroudsburg College.

Christmas readings were given by Mrs. Earl Kresge, Miss Esther Stevens, Mrs. Jennie Hoke, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crimbling, Miss Janet Hoke, Mr. and Mrs. John Bisling, Miss Ruth Meissenheimer and Mrs. Howard Widmer.

Pastor Bowman gave a Christmas message. The Sunday School Superintendent Mr. William Williams was unable to be present as he is still convalescing from surgery, but was represented by a bag of oranges which were distributed to all present. The college girls also passed around homemade candy and cookies after the service.

The young people of the Alliance group went out caroling at night under supervision of Pastor Bowman and Mrs. Hostetter.

If The Boss Is Ornerly Love Him Or Leave Him

By Roberta Fleming Roesch
"Can you give me some magic secrets for getting along with an ornerly boss?" writes a reader who obviously wants to remain anonymous. "Mine is making my working life miserable."

"For example," she goes on, "he spends eight hours of his working day making terribly unreasonable working demands on all of his employees except those who happen to be his special pets. And unless you're one of his pets, he never goes to bat for you so the people at the head of the firm give you a push ahead."

Minds Their Business
From morning to night, the reader writes, the boss spends much of his time minding other people's business and pointing out the things people do wrong.

The offering was received by Harold Lightner and William Fisher. A play, "The Shepherd's Search" was given by the junior class, directed by Mrs. Willard Jennings and Mrs. Willard Kitchen. The cast was Roxanne Kaiser, Nancy Richards, Jimmy Zimmerman, Jack Zimmerman, Ann McConnell, Phyllis Jennings, Carl Lee, Kim and David Transue, Edward Funk, Jr., Frank Davis, Sandra Jennings.

And all the while he's doing these things, he never listens to the other fellow's side or tries to understand what makes people tick.

Nursing Home Entertained By Many Groups

Portland — Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Portland Methodist Church held a Christmas service on Sunday afternoon at the Barto Nursing Home.

Rev. Raymond Poortstra read the Christmas message from St. Luke. Mrs. Fred Gardner and Miss Ruth Williams gave Christmas readings. Bert Millheim of Pen Argil was accompanist for the group carols, led by Mrs. John Ribble. Gifts were presented to each guest.

The entertainment was one of several given at the home. An instrumental group from Pen Argil entertained earlier in the afternoon with Arnold Zorretto, Bud Moysie and Bert Millheim in a combo which included trap drum, saxophone, and organ.

The junior boys and girls of the Portland Presbyterian Church made the Barto Nursing Home one of the ports of call when they went caroling on Saturday night. They caroled around town and in Middle Village, which is where the happy holiday gathering ended when one of their numbers, Gary Hochrein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hochrein, Jr., was seriously injured when he was hit by a car. He is in the General Hospital of Monroe County where his condition yesterday was described as "improved", after being on the critical list.

In Scientific Approach, Machine Matches Mates

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York (AP)—"Aw, go tell it to the machine," may be the resort when the 1963 husband complains about his wife.

Newest wrinkle in picking marriage partners is the computer. It's not a gimmick, insists Dr. Eric Riss, a psychologist. It's a practical aid to Cupid, speeding Riss' "scientific introduction service" to its ultimate aim, marriage.

Buoyed by his system that he says has a record of 700 marriages to 2 divorces since 1956 in an era when the divorce rate is 1 to 4, he added the computer.

"Now we can speed it up so that in two weeks a couple can be on a first date, in six months they may be on a honeymoon, although cautious types may wait five years. The machine does the preliminary sorting after a questionnaire and depth interview are completed."

Iron Out Bottlenecks
What's the computer got that young love hasn't?

"Time for one thing," explains Riss. "We iron out the bottlenecks right away, unlike a blind date or chance meeting that results in people sparring for years and then discovering they weren't meant for each other, or marrying when they aren't sure. Once they've been sorted, classified and introduced, the rest is all moonlight and roses."

Riss is not the first to offer a scientific approach to mate selection, he points out. The research employed dates back to the turn-of-the-century. Everybody knows what makes a good marriage, he says—physical attraction plus compatibility in terms of personality and goals in life. The trouble is it's either one way or the other. So he decided to bring the two requirements together, and make it simple.

Physical attraction can become boring, he says, that's why types you'd never suspect seek his service. There's the bright executive who fairs that he'll end up paying alimony, men who like the sci-

'Ex-Dividend' Stocks

By William A. Doyle

Q. Thanks to your column, I am finally beginning to understand the "ex-dividend" procedure. The brokers I have asked to explain this subject just confuse me. But there are still a few points about which I am not clear. As I understand it, a stock goes "ex-dividend" at the opening of business on the third business day before the record date of the dividend.

I bought some General Motors common stock a few months ago. On Dec. 10 I received a dividend of $1.50 a share. That dividend was paid to stockholders of record Nov. 15. GM stock went ex-dividend on Nov. 9. Wasn't that the fourth business day (not counting Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 10 and 11) before the record date?

Also does this mean that I could have sold my GM stock on or after Nov. 9 and still received the dividend?

A. Let's answer your second question first. Yes, you could have done just what you suggest. That's all part of the ex-dividend procedure. People who buy stock in a regular way transaction (the way most stock trades are handled) on or after the ex-dividend date are not entitled to receive the dividend. The dividend goes to the person who sells on or after the dividend date.

However, when a stock goes ex-dividend, the amount of the dividend is automatically deducted from the market value of the stock. So, if you sell on the ex-dividend date, you get the dividend but you sell your stock at a lower price than you would have received on the previous day — unless that price bounces back up as a result of buying demand for it in the market.

For instance, GM common had a closing price of "54" ($54 a share) on Nov. 8. It went ex-dividend $1.50 a share at the opening of trading Nov. 9. Its opening price on that day was actually 53½. So, its opening price change was really down ¾, after the ex-dividend adjustment.

It's understandable that you think Nov. 9 was the fourth business day before Nov. 15. But remember that Veterans' Day fell on Sunday, Nov. 11. So, it was officially observed on Nov. 12. Monday was a legal holiday for banks and various other institutions.

Yes, the stock exchanges were open for business on Nov. 12. But, because offices of transfer agents were closed, you skip Nov. 12, 1962, in calculating the ex-dividend date.

And you use the same procedure at various times during the year for other legal holidays.

Q. The latest dividend of 90 cents a share on American Telephone & Telegraph stock was declared payable Jan. 2 to the stockholders of record Nov. 30. I own some AT&T stock. For tax purposes, should I consider this part of my income for 1962 or for 1963?

A. As 1963 income. Cash dividends paid on stock are counted as income in the year in which they are paid. The payment date is always the key. The fact that the dividend was declared to stockholders of record on a date in the previous year doesn't matter.

Q. Do all corporations give their stockholders the right to vote for the election of officers and other matters?

A. Ownership of common stock normally carries with it the right to vote on the election of directors (but not officers, such as president, vice-presidents, etc.) and on certain other corporate affairs.

Nevertheless, not all companies send out "proxies" (roughly equivalent to ballots) to their stockholders. In some cases, stockholders must go through a good bit of red tape and personal inconvenience to vote.

Interpreting The News

Khru Rumored Ripe For West Truce

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

There's a story being leaked in Western capitals, as though it had come from the Kremlin, that Nikita Khrushchev would really appreciate a temporary truce with the West while he does some fence-mending at home and within the Communist sphere.

The inference is that he has enough major negotiating on his hands without having to meet Western initiative for more right now. Since Khrushchev is not likely to come as a suppliant—at least until he has been pushed harder by the West than he has so far—there is no inference that a realistic coexistence would be allowed to displace, more than temporarily, the Soviet policy of an all-for-Russia coexistence eventually.

Does he, then, really want a truce badly enough to give some indication of whether his appreciation would take any practical form, or even a safe form, for the West?

Hardly Be Sure

Despite the vain glory of the Soviet regime, which is a Russian as well as a Communist manifestation, the Kremlin can hardly be as sure today as a year or two ago that either time or history is running on its side.

There is fear that communism will not work unless some "capitalist" ideas are adopted, and that if they are some of the dynamism of world communism as a weapon of Russian expansion will be lost.

There is fear that communism has failed, or will fail, to break down centuries of Chinese-Soviet distrust, and that the great open spaces of the eastern Soviet will prove more and more tempting to the growing masses of northern China who have been given the hope but not the means of expanded life.

There is fear that Soviet pushing will more and more be met by Western firmness as it was in Cuba, that increasing Western power will bring prospects of a burial not of Western culture, but of a stoppage of the Soviet Communist clock which already requires so much tinkering to keep it going.

Thus the Soviet Union now seems to be standing dead center between two great forces.

Holding Operation

The appointment of a real diplomatic negotiator to replace Valerian Zorin at the United Nations, coupled with the effort to steer clear of the Chinese-Indian trouble and the stories leaked from Moscow, does suggest a holding operation.

On the reverse side, signs of an attempt to recoup some prestige in the Congo suggest an early if not immediate effort to get off dead center.

The Western decision whether or not to push the Kremlin more right now may not depend entirely upon whether this is or is not the time. The Western Alliance is involved in some complicated rearrangements of its own, involving national attitudes toward both military defense and economic ofense.

Khrushchev is not the only diplomat whose hands are full, even though his problems are more far-reaching and, for the monolithic structure of communism and the government of the Soviet Union, more nearly vital.

Westinghouse Predicts Boom

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mark W. Cresap Jr., Westinghouse Electric Corp. president, predicted Wednesday that business activity in the electrical manufacturing industry would continue on a high level in 1963.

Cresap also said the coming of age of commercial atomic power would provide an added impetus to business activity.

In a year-end statement, Cresap said:

"For the electrical manufacturers, the 1963 economic challenge will be to improve earnings so that they can support and speed the research, engineering and the development of advanced manufacturing methods which gave birth to the atomic power business and has brought America world leadership in it."

He said that more emphasis must be placed on introducing new products and services and more efficient production techniques to improve profitability because sales are expected to increase just slightly next year.

Frost Still Listed Serious

BOSTON (AP) — World-famed poet Robert Frost, 88, remains in serious condition in Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, officials said yesterday.

A spokesman added, however, that doctors still are hopeful for his complete recovery from the ailment that hospitalized him 15 days ago. They have declined to disclose the nature of ailment.

Snow Hinders Search In Brink's Theft

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP)—Snow hindered police in their search for clues yesterday in the daring Christmas Eve theft of an estimated $100,000 from a Brink's armored truck.

The driver, Frank Neuberger, told investigators that at least four revolver-brandishing, hooded men forced their way into the truck as it was parked near a bowling alley, the River Rand Bowl.

He said he was alone, waiting for his partner, William Link, to return with a collection from the bowling alley.

Neuberger said the hijackers, wearing black jackets and khaki hoods, handcuffed him and pulled a paper sack over his head. They drove to a nearby vacant lot and transferred the money to a waiting car.

Neuberger managed to get the hood off and notify authorities at a nearby truck garage in this northwest Chicago suburb.

Cook County Sheriff Richard Ogilvie estimated the bandits took $100,000—all the money in the truck after an unusually heavy day of collections from 35 firms. Brink's officials declined to estimate the loss pending a complete audit.

South Africa's Head Makes Plea

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—President Charles R. Swart appealed in a Christmas broadcast Tuesday to all peoples of this multiracial but white-ruled nation to practice love.

"Hate and bitterness, recriminations and vilification bring only misery and degradation," Swart said.

AS OF 1962, the Internal Revenue Service is divided into nine regions, 62 district offices, and 838 conveniently located local offices.

New Tax Rules To Be Faced In '63

EDITORS NOTE — Important changes in the federal tax laws take effect Jan. 1. All corporations and many individual income taxpayers will be affected. This is the first of a series of four articles on the changes.

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Corporations, all taxpayers who claim expense account deductions, Americans living abroad, savings institutions, cooperatives and many others will face significant new tax rules in 1963.

The changes are embodied in Public Law 87-834, the 1962 tax revision bill, the Kennedy administration's first attempt to grapple with problems flowing from the high tax rates of the past 20 years.

Most provisions of the law take effect Jan. 1. Kennedy first submitted his proposals in April 1961, but it took Congress a year and a half to complete work on the legislation.

The President ended up with less than he asked for in nearly all aspects. But Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon hailed the final product as "a major advance toward our national goal of a revised and modernized tax system."

Not In Personal
The new law makes no changes in personal income tax rates nor does it affect the great bulk of the rules applying to individual taxpayers. Revision of these was held over by the administration for the President's 1963 tax proposals.

Public Law 87-834 does contain about 20 important changes in the tax code, however, concerning mostly business organizations and businesses.

In both its inception and final form, the measure is an example of the carrot and stick approach. The major feature is the carrot — a $1-billion annual investment credit available to companies and individual businesses as an incentive to modernize their plants and equipment.

The administration holds high hopes for this as a major weapon in the campaign to jack up the U.S. economic growth rate and to make American business more competitive in world markets.

But to pay for the credit, Kennedy proposed increased levies for numerous classes of taxpayers and Congress went along with most of them in modified form. These groups include recipients of dividend and interest income, savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks, U.S. firms doing business abroad, mutual fire and casualty insurance companies, businessmen who entertain and travel widely, members of cooperatives, and Americans living full-time abroad.

The Treasury held that these had been paying less than their fair share of taxes for years.

The final result was to leave the act a net revenue loser by perhaps $200 million a year at the outset. But administration officials, confident of the business stimulation effects of the credit, predicted that before long the new provisions over-all would bring in as much money as they cost.

INVESTMENT CREDIT
This provision was made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1962. Most companies, however, will first get the benefit of it in their returns filed in March 1963.

Businesses will be permitted under the credit to subtract from their taxes up to seven per cent of what they spend for new equipment and machinery.

But no taxpayer can claim a credit of more than $25,000 plus 25 per cent of his remaining tax liability in a year.

Public utilities will be allowed only a three per cent credit, but interstate pipelines are eligible for seven.

The full credit can be applied only to an item with a useful life of eight or more years. Those with six to seven years will get two-thirds of the credit, those with four to five years one-third.

Buildings and other real property will not be eligible. However, purchases of used property up to $50,000 can qualify; this provision was designed chiefly to help small business.

Can Be Carried
Unused credits in any taxable year can be carried back three years or forward five.

If the credit is claimed on an item, its depreciation base will have to be reduced by the amount of the credit.

Kaiser Plan Benefits Early
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Kaiser Steel Corp. workers could receive benefits from a new labor agreement the first payday in April, United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said Wednesday.

McDonald said Kaiser's 7,000 employees in Fontana, Calif., will vote on the new production cost savings plan Jan. 11. The agreement will go into effect March 1 if approved, McDonald said.

The labor official told a news conference he does not know if the union will try to extend the Kaiser plan to the rest of the steel industry and related industries.

"I hope this will be the most satisfactory way to create job opportunities," McDonald said. "I can't say at this time which plan I'd prefer."

McDonald said there has been no discussion about reopening contract negotiations with the basic steel industry next year, as provided in the current pact.

DIVIDEND AND INTEREST INCOME

Kennedy asked for a tax withholding system on this income, similar to that in effect on wages and salaries, but it was killed in the Senate.

However, the new law prescribes much tighter reporting requirements in this field. The reports, used in conjunction with the Treasury's electronic processing machines, are expected to bring in much of the taxes now lost.

Corporations will have to report to the Treasury annual dividend payments totaling more than $10 to any individual. Savings institutions will have the same requirement for interest.

In addition, identical reports must go to the income recipients by Jan. 31 each year starting in 1964.

A penalty of $10 for each failure to send a return up to a $25,000 ceiling is established.

At present, dividend payments totaling more than $10 must be reported to the government annually but on interest the floor is $600.

Stroudsburg Man Recipient Of Patent For Auto Device

WALTER TRANSUE, 1717 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, was the recipient recently of U.S. patent No. 3,066,972, entitled "Rainshields For Parked Automobiles".

Various types of rainshields have been devised and used on the windshields of automobiles. They are of particular utility for automobiles parked in outdoor theaters because they prevent rain from falling on the windshield and obscuring vision of the occupants of the vehicle.

According to Transue, the prior rainshields of this type have had one or more defects. For example, if the rainshield was sufficiently sturdy and well mounted, it was usually relatively complex and difficult to apply and remove as well as being rather expensive.

On the other hand, if it was easy to apply and remove, it generally was apt to fall away or collapse during use and, in any event, required constant replacement due to wear and tear.

Simple In Construction

To overcome these limitations, Transue has devised a rainshield which, it is claimed, is simple in construction, easy to apply and remove, and not apt to collapse or fall away. It is intended particularly for use on a parked car, as when the occupants of the vehicle are attending a movie and it starts to rain or is already raining so that the windshield is obscured.

Two of the rainshields are applied to the windshield, one on each side, and they may be removed quickly and easily at the end of the show.

The rainshield of Transue's invention comprises a generally horizontal flat metallic or plastic visor with side wings that rest on the windshield.

A number of vacuum cups, such as three, are secured to the visor by means of a special arm and associated parts. An apron, made of rubber or other suitable material, presses on the windshield above the vacuum cups.

To install the rainshield in place, the vacuum cups are pressed against the windshield and are held securely in place in the conventional manner. Due to the flexibility of the cups, the rainshield may readily be attached to a curved windshield. To remove the rainshield, it is merely lifted off the windshield against the pressure of the cups.

The application for this patent, which consists of three claims of originality, was filed on April 19, 1960.

Infant Strangles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An infant girl strangled Tuesday when her head became caught between the side railings of her crib. The victim was Regina Hartner, 13 months.

CHARLES Wesley, who during his lifetime (1707-1788) wrote hundreds of hymns, was inspired to write "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" as he walked to church on Christmas day and heard the London church bells chime.

For Car Ignition Problems See Ott F. Thomas, Stroudsburg

THIS EQUIPMENT, installed by Lawton Huffman Co., Inc., Marshalls Creek at Pocono Ice-A-Rama Indoor Ice Skating Rink, Anasomink, provides the ice that makes indoor ice skating possible. The Patterson-Kelly special dual purpose chiller along with the Carrier direct driven compressor, driven by a 40 horsepower motor, services a 4,000 square foot skating area, circulating chilling liquids through thousands of feet of pipe to freeze the ice.

Sear's Homeowner's Tip

Beware Of Home Storm Warnings

THE WEATHER Bureau will usually give us ample warning well in advance of a change in the weather, but your home has a few danger signals of its own that may go unnoticed.

If your home is 10 years old or older, chances are that you will soon be in need of a few repairs. Here are a few danger signals to watch for:

Are your roof shingles missing granules, or do they appear dried out? Does the siding on your home appear warped, cracked, or loosened?

Perhaps the interior walls or tion after a heavy rain. If so, it's time to replace your roof or siding before you develop a major moisture problem.

According to Sears, Roebuck and Co. engineers, the best roof shingles are made of a heavy rag felt with 100 percent asphalt coating. You'll also find a wide range of siding available today, but the most durable falls into three general categories: insulating, fireproof asbestos, and aluminum.

During cold weather you may notice that the walls or ceiling are ten to fifteen degrees colder than room temperature.

This condition is due to poor insulation. Just as your oven is insulated to keep cooking heat in, so should your home be protected to be comfortable in the winter.

Rock wool or fiber glass insulation is recommended by Sears engineering staff, and they are available in batts, rolls, or pour-type insulation for hard to get at spaces. For best results, insulation experts recommend a three-inch thickness for the average home and a six-inch insulation for homes with air conditioning or electric heating.

Perhaps your home is in need of a whole new heating system. Many dramatic advances have been made during the past few years in perimeter forced air and forced water heating systems. A study of your home and climatic conditions in the area may result in the installation of a heating system that will greatly reduce your winter fuel bill.

Head those early home storm warnings. If you don't, you may be in for far more costly repairs later on.

Estimates and materials you need can be found at your Sears store, Main St., Stroudsburg.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: There are some large cracks in the plaster walls of an old house we recently purchased. Can you tell us how to go about patching them?

ANSWER: Before you start, be sure all loose plaster is removed from the areas to be repaired. Undercut the edges of the plaster so that the new material will take hold securely. Wet the opening thoroughly. This is to prevent the new plaster from drying out too quickly.

Using patching plaster, follow the manufacturer's directions for mixing. Since patching plaster sets fairly quickly, do not mix too much at a time. Fill the opening with the mixture, being sure to pack it down firmly.

The patch should be slightly above the surrounding area after you have smoothed it with a putty knife or trowel. When it has dried, sand it down. The patch should be moistened a couple of times a day for several days. If the entire wall is being repainted, be sure all such patches are coated with a wall sealer.

EXTRA TWIST MEANS EXTRA WEAR NEVER give an extra twist to a faucet handle to shut the water off.

This will quickly wear out the washer seat, which is the heart of the faucet, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

And to help assure efficient operation, says the Bureau, use only quality washers, such as plumbing contractors have in stock. A cheap washer will swell up in the hot water faucet.

But chances are he will — because you have down deep he knows the family admires his talent with the saw, and thinks he's really quite a guy.

Cold Weather Plays Havoc With Cars

MOST every area resident has, at one time or another, known the aggravation of a car that won't run or start properly. Our extremely winter weather makes it necessary to have vehicles that are tuned to the n'th degree.

If your car doesn't perform to suit you, why not call O. F. Thomas Garage at 107 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg. Making your car start easily and run well is their business.

Fouled or worn spark plugs, dirty ignition points and the like can cause poor starting and performance in any type gasoline engine.

Likewise, the carburetor can be out of adjustment, especially cars with automatic chokes.

An automatic choke working improperly can cause excess gas consumption too. That's why it pays to take your car to O. F. Thomas Garage, specialists in ignition and carburetion.

An addition to the back of their building gives them even more working space. "Ott" also is an official car inspection station holding Official Inspection No. 42.

Put all your car care in competent hands; See "Ott" at 107 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg.

Knipe's Radio And T. V. Is A Stereo, Hi-Fi Haven

KNIPE'S Radio and Television Shop, 18 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, is a haven for the lover of quality sounds. Here you will find Stereo and Hi-Fi at its best... TV by RCA in both black and white and color... quality radios... and component parts for phonographs.

Harold Knipe, owner, salesman and serviceman, also specializes in custom built-in stereo for home... this not only adds another dimension to the home but the pleasure derived from having beautiful strains of music floating through the house is truly the essence of elegant living.

Inter-communication systems for the home, store, factory or farm is another talent Knipe displays. The intercom is a very handy and practical device, saving mom or the businessman many steps in a year's time.

Knipe's expert installation of the intercom will help anyone run a more efficient home or business.

Knipe's sales room is located on N. Sixth St., while his service shop is at 619 Wallace St., Stroudsburg. All service work is picked-up at the sales room, serviced at Wallace Street, and when expertly put back in working order returned to the sales room for delivery.

MANY things affect the results in the painting of the wooden part of a house. Among them are the quality of the paint, the care taken in the preparation of the surface, the manner in which the paint is applied and the weather in the area over a period of time.

An important consideration, little discussed, is the type and grade of wood being painted. Some woods take paint better than others.

But usually it is possible to even up the durability of the paint jobs if extra attention is given to those woods which normally have less paint receptivity. When no such extra attention is given, these paints begin to show signs of wear before the coatings on the other woods, even though there appears to be no difference for many months after the paint is applied.

In an effort to discover more about the behavior of paints on different kinds of wood, the United States Department of Agriculture conducts continuous tests in cooperation with the University of Wisconsin. Some of the findings confirm what we have known or suspected for some time. Others are wholly or partly surprising.

It was found that woods on which paints of the widest range in kind and quality give good service are the cedars, bald-cypress and redwood. But the higher the grade of the wood, no matter what kind it is, the longer the paint will last. The best grades have fewer defects, such as knots, pitch streaks and pitch pockets. In some woods, of course, the defects are considered attractive, the most notable example being knotty pine. These woods, however, usually are finished with clear materials rather than paint.

Another discovery: when oil paint is applied to woods such as white fir, Douglas fir, southern yellow pine, birch, maple, ponderosa pine, the hemlocks and the spruces, it will gain in durability if a coat of aluminum paint is applied first. The key in this situation is that the primer must be aluminum house paint, not any of the many other varieties of aluminum paint on the market.

It is necessary to apply two coats of the oil paint over the aluminum house paint. Good results also are obtained if the primer is of the type which contains no zinc oxide and has the property commonly called "controlled penetration."

When emulsion paints, which are thinned with water, are used for the finish coats, it is important that the primer be of the kind recommended by the manufacturer of the emulsion paint.

Other conclusions of the study: woods with much resins and oils in them shorten the life of the paint coatings, but this effect is minimal if the lumber is well-seasoned.

College Basketball's Top 10 Shows Wholesale Shakeup

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
College basketball's top ten went through a wholesale shakeup and there's likely to be another shuffle after this week's tournament-studded action throughout the nation.
Cincinnati's all-conquering Bear-

THE BIG THREE — Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.; Gary Player of South Africa and Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, dominated golf this year. Palmer won the Masters and British Open; Player took the PGA while Nicklaus captured the U. S. Open.

Woodling Provides Mets A Touch Of The Yankees

By FRANK ECK
EIGHT years ago when the Yankees traded Gene Woodling to Baltimore in a 17-player deal, the outfielder, then 32, said: "I still have several good years left."
What's more, Woodling proved it. He hit above .300 three times after that.
Today, at age 40, he belongs to the New York Mets and still feels quite a few games away from retiring to his saddle horse farm in Medina, Ohio.
"I played more games last season than I did in 1961 when I hit .313 in 110 games for Washington," says Woodling.
The solidly-built southpaw swinger began last season with the Senators and on June 16 was sold to the Mets. He saw action in 125 games and hit a combined .276 for 297 official at bats. He hit five home runs for each team and one oddity of his switch from the American

Shannon And Liske

Unheralded QB's Gator Bowl Keys

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Among the many excellent quarterbacks who led their teams to bowl games this season, not much national attention was given to Tom Shannon of Florida and only a little more went to Pete Liske of Penn State.

Wisconsin Tunes Up For Game

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Wisconsin football team hit the practice field for a morning drill Wednesday in shaking the effects of a Christmas turkey dinner.
"It wasn't a very good practice," said Coach Milton Bruyn, before he and the squad left for an afternoon visit to Disneyland.

TRACK STAR—Jim Beatty, 28-year-old insurance agent from Los Angeles, set five American records and one world mark in races from one mile to 5,000 meters during 1962.

Rams Upset Trojans In Hoop Classic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hustling Colorado State University's spectacular outside shooting stunned seventh-ranked and previously unbeaten Southern California 72-54 Wednesday in the Los Angeles Basketball Classic.
Colorado State built up 20-point leads three times in the second half against Southern Cal. The Rams coasted to victory in the final minutes.
The taller visitors from Colorado seemed faster and beat the Trojans in every department of the game. They controlled both backboards and enjoyed a 44-23 lead in the rebound department. The Rams also forced the Trojans into numerous ball-control errors.

Much Movement
But behind Cincinnati there was plenty of movement. As a result the next nine followed in this order: Ohio State, Loyola Chicago, Illinois, Kentucky, Arizona State, Southern California, Duke, Stanford and Mississippi State.

Arizona State, Southern Cal and Stanford are all newcomers to the select society. They replaced Colorado, which was sixth, West Virginia, which was seventh, and Seattle, which was 10th.
Ohio State advanced from third to second; Loyola rose from fourth to third; Illinois vaulted from eighth to fourth and Kentucky moved from ninth to fifth.

Duke Drops
Duke, beaten by Miami and Davidson, dropped all the way from second to eighth, and Mississippi State skidded from fifth to 10th.
The top ten, based on total points allowing 10 points for a first place team, 9 for second, 8 for third etc. with first place votes in parentheses:

	W L Pts.
1. Cincinnati (45)	8 0 450
2. Ohio State	6 0 376
3. Loyola Chicago	7 0 368
4. Illinois	5 0 187
5. Kentucky	5 2 134
6. Arizona State	7 1 111
7. Southern California	9 0 95
8. Duke	6 2 92
9. Stanford	7 0 91
10. Mississippi State	6 1 90

Southern Cal, Wisconsin Feature Bowls

THE ROSE BOWL, where all this business of West Coast football meeting the Midwest began back in 1902, has got to be the most attractive offering on New Year's Day.

It not only brings together the top two teams in The Associated Press poll but it pits a young coach, who became a winner for the first time this fall, against a veteran coach who has a score or two in Pasadena.

John McKay, a 39-year-old native of Everettville, W. Va., had never been a winning coach until his Trojans bowled over California, 32-6, in the fourth game of the season. The biggest thing in Los Angeles since the Dodgers copped the 1959 World Series, Southern Cal won its last six games to go unbeaten and untied.

The Trojans won only one of their last four games in 1961 but now McKay has an 18-11-1 record for his three campaigns at Los Angeles.

The game also is the only one of the four major bowl tests to bring together two All-American. Southern Cal features guard Damon Bame and Wisconsin has Pat Richter, a brilliant end who is 6-foot-5 and 229 pounds.

Sad Memories
For Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin the Rose Bowl has meant sad memories. In the 1960 game he took his Big Ten champions, with a 7-2 record, to the coast and Washington, led by Don Schloredt, a one-eyed quarterback, shellacked the Badgers, 44 to 8.

Wisconsin finally recovered this season, losing only to Ohio State, 14-7, but coming back to average 35 points a game against Michigan, Northwestern and Illinois. The Big Ten champions ranked second to Southern Cal in the final poll, although the Californians got 42 first place votes out of a possible 52. Five voters picked Wisconsin.

Two other first team All-American players will see action on New Year's Day. They are Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama center, whose team faces Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl and Jerry Stovall, LSU back, whose Tigers take on unbeaten Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Mississippi and Arkansas figure to have a lively session in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. Last time these two rivals met, Mississippi opened its 1961 season with a 16-0 win over the Razorbacks.

An oddity of the New Year's Day bowls is that the eight participants were among the top eight in the final AP poll. After the bowls were Mississippi, Texas, Alabama, Arkansas, LSU and Oklahoma.

Giants Practice At Point

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Allie Sherman herded his New York Giants into Army's vast fieldhouse at nearby West Point Wednesday as he stepped out the tempo for Sunday's National Football League title game with Jimmy Taylor and Paul Hornung and Co. of Green Bay.

Dudley Out
Resuming work after a three-day holiday, the Giants were without the services of halfback Paul Dudley, the ex-Packer, whose injured left knee had not responded to treatment. He probably will miss the big game.

Ralph Guglielmi, Y. A. Title's stand-in at quarterback, also was an uncertain factor. Although the "Goog" worked out with the club and said he would be ready, Sherman said a final decision would be made after Thursday's workout.

Strained Ankle
Guglielmi strained an ankle Dec. 16 in the Giants' final regular season game.

The Giants road about 50 miles north from their usual stadium haunts to take advantage of the dirt-floor indoor facilities where the old Brooklyn Dodgers held spring training during World War II.

They will work there again Thursday and probably Friday morning before returning to New York later Friday. Much depends on the weather and the condition of the home field at Yankee Stadium, which is covered. Green Bay is due Friday and may work out at the stadium Saturday.

The long-range weather outlook for Sunday's game calls for moderating temperatures and a total of a half inch of rain or snow during the five-day period ending Sunday.

Packers Prepare For Title Defense

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers came back from their Christmas holiday Wednesday to the cold realities of preparing for defense of their National Football League championship against the Giants in New York Sunday—and seldom have realities been colder.

The thermometer dropped to 19 degrees below zero, a record for the date, early Wednesday and still sulked at 14 below when Coach Vince Lombardi muffed his

Announce All-Stars For West

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Walt Bellamy were the unanimous selections for the West squad which meets the East in the National Basketball Association's 13th annual All-Star game at Los Angeles Jan. 16.

President Maurice Podoloff of the NBA announced Wednesday the names of eight players selected by basketball writers for the West team. The three other members of the 1-man squad will be picked by the coaches. The eight West players will be announced Thursday.

Red Auerbach of the champion Boston Celtics will coach the East. Fred Schaus of the Los Angeles Lakers will coach the West. The East leads 7-5 in the series.

The West selections:
Forwards — Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles Lakers; Bob Pettit, St. Louis Hawks, and Bailey Howell, Detroit Pistons.

Centers—Wilt Chamberlain, San Francisco Warriors, and Walt Bellamy, Chicago Zephyrs.
Guards — Jerry West, Los Angeles; Guy Rodgers, San Francisco, and Don Ohl, Detroit.

LSU Sets Up Camp In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Louisiana State's Tigers, 65 strong, come to town Thursday to set up camp for the Cotton Bowl football game.

It is the earliest any team ever came to the bowl game here and is also one of the largest squads. Texas, which opposes LSU in the Cotton Bowl Tuesday, resumed work at Austin Wednesday and will not fly in until Sunday.

BILL Kunkel, drafted by the Yankees from Toronto for $25,000 at the winter baseball meetings, had a 3.38 earned run average for eight innings with Kansas City early last season. He allowed three runs on homers.

Another Tough Job

MacArthur To Ref NCAA-AAU Feud

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has taken on another tough job in accepting the assignment from President Kennedy to arbitrate the dispute between the warring AAU and NCAA, it became more apparent than ever Wednesday.

The president of the AAU said his organization is ready to resolve the dispute with the NCAA "at any time" over the conduct of amateur athletics in the United States. But he said the other party in the talks must be the NCAA and no other group.

Slams NCAA
Then, in a statement released by AAU headquarters here, President Louis J. Fisher of High Point, N.C., slammed the NCAA and omitted any reference to the U.S. Track and Field Federation. The AAU refers to the USTFF as the NCAA's "puppet."

The USTFF has sought to replace the AAU as the American representative to the International Amateur Athletic Federation, key organization for the certification of track and field athletes for the Olympics and other international competition.

The AAU is polling its 32-man executive committee on whether it will agree to compulsory arbitration of its dispute with the NCAA as suggested by President Kennedy. The AAU said its constitution requires a majority vote of its executive committee on such matters. Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU, said he expected to have most of the votes by Jan. 1.

Moves Well
Paul Hornung, who has been running only at idling speed since he twisted a knee at Minneapolis in mid-October, was moving as well as any time this season, and for the first time in more than two months launched a long series of booming kicks from placement.

Fullback Jim Taylor said happily, "We had a real good workout."

After Wednesday's workout, Lombardi expressed the somewhat conservative view that, "It looks as though we'll be ready—but so will they."

The Packers will work out again Thursday, with the last drill scheduled for Friday, just before boarding a plane for New York. They hope to loosen up Saturday morning in Yankee Stadium if field conditions permit.

Penn Trampled By Illini, 98-66

NEW YORK (AP)—Hitting 56 per cent from the field, Illinois' fast-breaking basketball team trampled Pennsylvania 98-66 in the opening round of Wednesday's Holiday Festival Tournament.

Five Illinois players scored in double figures as the tall and talented Big Ten outfit built a 41-30 halftime lead and poured it on with a 57-point second half for its sixth victory without a defeat. The loss was Penn's first after five victories.

Bill Burwell paced the Illini attack with a 26-point output although he sat out the last 10 minutes of the first half and the last 4 minutes of the final period.

John Wideman, Penn's captain and Rhodes Scholarship award winner, was held to 11 points. Team scoring honors went to Ray Caruzzo who had 16.

Future Bleak For Mexicans

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Mexico, down 0-2 and with its back to the wall, counted on the crack doubles combination of Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox to get back into the fight against Australia for tennis' famed Davis Cup.

Prospects looked bleak for the scrappy Latin Americans, playing in the challenge round for the first time in history, but Pancho Contreras, the young team captain, refused to be dismayed.

Not Giving Up

"We are not giving up yet," he said. "We believe we can win the doubles and we can make an interesting match of it on the last day."

Osuna and Palafox, beaten in the opening singles match Wednesday, take the center court against an unnamed Australian team Thursday, realizing defeat will crush Mexican hopes of an upset.

The match will start at 11 p.m., EST, Wednesday.

Harry Hopman, Australian captain, exercised the prerogative of waiting until an hour before the match time to reveal the identity of his team.

Laver, Emerson

It was almost certain to be Rod Laver and Roy Emerson, Laver, winner of four major singles championships during the past year in a rare grand slam, turned on an awesome display of stroking power to crush Mexico's ace, Osuna, 6-2, 6-1, 7-5, in just 69 minutes.

Neale Fraser, 29-year-old former Wimbledon champion playing in his fifth challenge round, won over a surprisingly formidable Palafox on sheer nerve, 7-9, 6-3, 6-4, 11-9.

Near Exhaustion

At the end of a 2 hour, 50 minute marathon, Fraser, who was semi-retired from big time competition for the last two years, was wobbling on his legs and near physical exhaustion.

Osuna, 24-year-old University of Southern California student, and Palafox, 26-year-old undergraduate at Corpus Christi, Tex., University, have been playing together for the last four years.

MCBL Slates Three Matches

THE Monroe County Bowling League has three matches set for tonight at Harmon's Recreation starting at 9:15 p. m.

TV Highlights

ON "TODAY" this morning from 7 to 9, Chs. 3 and 4, Piers Anerton (CBS News Correspondent from Berlin) and Frank Bourgholt-ter (NBC News Correspondent from Moscow) will discuss the Berlin situation, the German government crisis and relations between the United States and Russia. This is part of a series of special reports on "Today" by nine NBC News foreign correspondents who will take part in "Projection 63," an annual year-end review and forecast—this program will be telecast in color Sunday, Jan. 6, from 10 to 11.

On "Ozzie and Harriet" from 7:30 to 8, Chs. 6 and 7, Rick's friend invents a children's game and the Nelsons and friends get into business venture. From 8 to 8:30 on "The Donna Reed Show"
Jeff cuts family ties on a short visit to a neighboring city. Beaver sets out to sabotage his brother's party, not realizing that he will be invited on "Leave It to Beaver" from 8:30 to 9. On "The Three Sons" from 9 to 9:30 Chip sets his sights on a $100 toy car when Sudsy tells him fathers are push-overs.

An anxious mother burdens her injured daughter with fears that the loss of her eye may hurt her chances for marriage, on "Dr. Kildare" from 8:30 to 9:30, Chs. 3 and 4. Betty Field and Judee
Morton guest star.

James Coburn guest stars in a rerun on "Perry Mason" from 8 to 9, Chs. 2 and 10. Raymond Envious Editor." Young performers Angela D'Ambrosia and Jerry Dodge make their television debut in guest-star roles on "The Nurses" from 9 to 10. The story revolves around the daughter of a famous theatrical couple who wants plastic surgery on her nose and a jockey who is recovering from a racing acci-

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, December 27
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) —
A little splash and sparkle, carefully chosen and directed, will implement this already pepped-up period. Allocate things to appropriate hours to gain awards and prizes.
April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) —
A soft, complimentary word needed to assuage and allay, then the favorable aspects can come through.
Cushion for possible setback - or disappointment-feelings (some always lurk).
May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Late hours and trying situations can cause understandable fatigue. Avoid "nervous" by adopting philosophical outlook, smiling, inject restful moments. On whole, good aspects.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) —
Day favors any number of worthwhile endeavors, and your best behavior under most circumstances can gain fresh advantages AND vitally important viewpoints.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Especially fine for domestic, children, oldsters and friendship matters. Business carefully handled can be stepped up. Here is dandy spot for your keen wit.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Less active than past few days probably, but this depends upon many extras you must attend to before work's obligations are finished, and whether you put cart before the horse.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Impulsive statements table. Heeding wise precepts generally, you will speed ahead with di-tutes, and have time for doing in its place. Research, entice, be ready.
October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Not as stimulating as for some, but that will be good for you particularly. Power must be cleverly maneuvered, and honestly, yours and others; work for this.
November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — In between two more strikingly favorable planetary periods, so reduce for likely er-ors, eliminate time-wasting, don't promise more than reasonable or than you will.
December 24 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Play it BOTH by intention and knowledge. The one strengthens the other, makes each valid. Stumped about anything?
Ask, look up answers, listen to opinions.
January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Drama configuration promotes your ability to cope with several different affairs or setups in one day. Just avoid overdoing. Neither rush nor dally, find that wise intermediate.
February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) —
You also share happy aspects this month friendly period. But it there are hazards of the times, and some we dream up wistfully besides.
So the straight and stable are required.
YOU BORN TODAY: Many potent characteristics from a boundless creator. You love fair play, are a doer, will work hard for top results, which usually come to the enterprising Capricornian who remains faithful to highest values and loves God with a strong heart. You can become immune to your own success if you forget to recognize the little blessings along the way, and searching for big returns. Convert your powers always to useful purposes of the mental and spiritual and friendship than the material. Numerous statements in this Sign, and brokers, bankers, financiers, you are persevering, cautious, strong-willed. Remember that finesse and tender feelings go with the successful marriage and friendship. You have fine abilities will shine as resplendently as they should. There is authority and capriciousness here, and many assets for a wonderful life - but you must guide route and self master.
Fully, birthdate of Johann Kepler, the astronomer; Louis Pasteur, Fr.
chemist, discoverer of pasteuriza-tion; numerous artists, teachers, and lawyers.

dent. Martha Hyer and Gig Young stars in "A Piece of the Action," a rerun, on "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour" from 10 to 11.

Tennessee Ernie Ford makes his first nighttime TV appearance in many months and Tournament of Roses Queen Nancy Davis makes her nationwide debut on "The Andy Williams Show" color broadcast from 10 to 11, Chs. 3 and 4. Highlights of the program include Williams singing "You Stepped Out of a Dream" and Andy and Ernie teamed up on "You're Nobody." Andy, Ernie and the New Christy Minstrels
sing "Jubilee Time."

Host-narrator Fred Astaire stars as Ted Miller and Janis Paige co-stars as Connie Rankin in a tense drama of a clarinet player who wakes up one morning after a wild party and, although he cannot remember, thinks he may have been responsible for another musician's death on "Premiere" from 10 to 11, Chs. 6 and 7. Robert H. Harris, Richard Shannon and Lurene Tuttle are also in the cast of "Blues For A Hanging."

Charles Laughton and Ella
Raines star on "The Late Show" on channel 2 from 11:15 to conclusion. In "The Suspect" a man is refused a divorce by his shrew-ish wife and plans what will appear to be her accidental death.
This is a 1945 film.

WISHING WELL
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Wishing Well is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day.
It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Delaware Water Gap

MR. and Mrs. A. D. Davis of Shepherd Ave. and their son, Russell Davis had as guests over Christmas, Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. Mary Williams of Blakeslee, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Griffith of Dover, N.J. The latter reported no trouble in driving home Christmas night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flynn and Patsy Flynn, of The Heights, were hosts Christmas Day to Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Flynn and Karen Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Dirksen and Mike, Patty and John Dirksen. The Dirksens are living on The Heights for a few months until he is called into foreign service. He is in the Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Funk and son, Edward, are moving into their new bungalow on Minsi Rd., Saturday. They had Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. William Widdoss where other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller and sons, Gene and Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Phillips, of New York state, the former Barbara Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Smith, greeted friends at the Methodist Church Sunday night.

Mr. George Mickey of East Stroudsburg, was in Water Gap Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hay and children were dinner guests on Christmas Day at the home of Mr. Hay's mother, Mrs. George Hay, Wednesday. Mrs. Hay had with her her son, Mr. William Hay and his family from Medford, N.J.

Christmas Day guests at the home of the Stanley Siproth's were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Har-ison, of Paradise Falls; Mr. and Mrs. John Siproth, Miss Anne Siproth, Mr. Ray Butz, of the Stroudsburgs.

Mrs. Charles Rapp held a Christmas Day dinner for all her family which included her son-in-law and daughter and their two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Waite, Richard and James, of Quakertown, also her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Brockman.

Dr. and Mrs. Bennett Strait joined their son-in-law, daughter, and grandsons Mr. and Mrs. William Lobecker, William and Paul, for Christmas holidays in Fallsington.

Mrs. R. D. Barnes, of Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. George Lavinson, of Morristown, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Staples Tuesday.

The bungalow of Raymond Jaggers, Sr., was filled to overflowing with Christmas guests. They included Mr. Raymond Jaggers, Jr., Wayne and Rene, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ace and Barbara, Debbie, George, Harriet and Raymond, all of the Stroudsburgs. Mrs. Raymond Jaggers, Jr. had to remain home with her daughter Sandra, who is ill with the old-fashioned measles.

Austin Keller was home with his brother Benton and sisters, the Misses Amelia and Nellie Keller, for the Christmas weekend. He made the trip by train from New York City to avoid the bad roads.

Honey Label Is Misrepresented

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Adolphus Hohensee, 59, of Benton Twp. Lackawanna County, Pa., has been sentenced to six years in prison on charges of conspiracy to defraud by selling plain honey as "Ambrosia of the Gods."

The judge said he would recommend that Hohensee be put in charge of the prison bee hives.

Hohensee was sentenced in Superior Court yesterday. He was also fined $4,500, the judge said, to help pay expenses of the 10-day trial.

He was denied bond pending an appeal.
